LONG STRUGGLE ON WEST FRONT IS AHEAD SAYS FRENCH EXPERT

Warns America to Prepare For Long and Bitter Contest on Flanders Field

SAYS MAN POWER IS TO BE AMERICA'S BIG AID

Next to This Transportation Facilities Are Necessary From United States

WASHINGTON, April 26.—“America must expect a long and bitter struggle on the west front. It may be months before a decision in the bloody fighting there is realized.

“Today the Allies are outnumbered by their foe. The situation is serious. The duty of the American Government, the laboring man and the people at home is to make haste now. A successful outcome is assured.”

This summary is a remarkably frank discussion of the Allied war situation by M. De Billy, French deputy high commissioner to the United States, who has just arrived here from France with French officers who were in the thick of the German onslaughts in the west.

Having failed in their original intention of separating the British and French lines, the Germans, they say, are now preparing for a long, continual drive—and it may be many weeks before the end is in sight.

All Are Earnest

Talking with these men, who have actually witnessed the recent battles in France, one is impressed by the tremendous earnestness with which they seek to drive home the vast effort necessary by America NOW. At the same time the complete confidence they have in the future is clearly conclusive of the German failure to crack the morale of French troops or people.

Man power is the first vital demand on America, M. De Billy declared. England is rushing great reserves to France and the French are mustering all the reserves they can. The great reservoir, however, is the United States. Troop shipments from here must be hastened to the utmost, he said.

Germany is preparing to throw every good soldier she has into the west front battle line, according to French information. The collapse of Russia has been followed by the virtual stripping of the Russian front of forces. Two more divisions have been recently sent to Picardy. There are no great German forces today on any front except the west.

Transportation Next

Next to man power demanded to meet this German determination, transportation, according to M. De Billy, stand out as the most vital question. Anything that can be done, must be done, the Frenchman said, to inspire the people and workmen of America to the crying need for ships.

America must exert its greatest effort now while the danger is acute and at the same time prepare for continuing the struggle through 1919 and 1920.

As for the American boys now in France, the commissioner said both General Foch and General Petain had spoken very highly of Pershing's men. “They are well trained, as shown by their recent fighting, they have done well wherever they have been,” he said.

Then one of the French majors spoke enthusiastically and said: “Yes, I have seen many of them myself. They are as fine fighting men as I ever saw. This country may be assured they will hold their own wherever they are placed.”

But in the face of Germany's gigantic efforts the Allies “must, only stand together, not afraid of the issue but ready to face it, united in command and purpose—and the future is assured,” said M. De Billy.

CAMPAIGN IS NEAR ITS END

Parade Tonight By Boy Scouts Promises to Be A Big Feature

Eight or More Troops With Special Float Features Will March

Displaying an enthusiasm that has characterized their efforts in every endeavor, Boy Scouts this afternoon are astir in preparation for the Liberty Day parade this evening. They have assumed responsibility for a proper observance of the day in Santa Ana and indications are that there will be no disappointment.

Five of the troops and the troop at Huntington Beach have reported the character of display they will have in the parade. Troops four and five have not reported, so it is not known what their features will be.

The parade will form at the corner of Main and Sixth and will move promptly at 7:30, with W. J. Lindsay as grand marshal and a Boy Scout bugler riding by his side on a prancing steed.

The Santa Ana band will head the procession, with the Home Guards of Santa Ana following. The procession is going to move on time, whether all the troops are in line or not, and those who want to witness it should be on the street by 7:30.

The line of march will be south on Main to Fourth, west on Fourth to Ross, east on Fourth to Mortimer, west on Fourth to Main, thence north to Sixth, the point of starting.

Clever Banners

It is said the boys have arranged some clever banners and several novel stunts will be pulled along the line of march. Troop one will have an armoured car as its float. No. 2 has decided on a flying machine, while No. 3 will have a tank and a take-off on the Kaiser. A torpedo, stretcher and a characterization of the Kaiser will be No. 6's contribution to the parade. Dummy shells and Boy Scout Liberty Bonds will feature No. 7. Huntington Beach will be in line with a supply wagon.

At 8:05 four minute boys and girls of the High School will start a series of patriotic talks at the corners of Fourth and Main, Fourth and Sycamore and Fourth and Broadway. There will be six orators in action at each of the intersections. Eight speakers will rotate, so there will be something to hear at each corner every minute of the time scheduled for the addresses.

And while the orators are presenting appeals to the people to purchase, the boys in khaki will circulate among the crowds in solicitation of applications for bonds.

Santa Ana is something like $70,000 shy of her quota and the boys are expected to pick this up during their week's campaign, starting with tonight. The bond campaign ends on May 4, a week from tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Champ Clark, speaker of the house, today declined to accept the Missouri senatorship to succeed the late Senator Wm. J. Stone.

'LIBERTY DAY' TO BOOST SALE OF LIBERTY BONDS, IS OBSERVED THROUGHOUT NATION

WASHINGTON, Apr. 26.—Liberty Day, proclaimed a national holiday by President Wilson, was observed throughout the land today. A mighty effort was made to bring the somewhat lagging Liberty Loan up to the schedule.

The day's close, Liberty Loan headquarters here believed, will sweep the loan well past the $2,000,000,000 mark and give impetus to carry it far over the $3,000,000,000, which must at least be attained.

ONE CITY ONLY IS OVER OFFICIALLY

Orange county has not gone over the top officially as yet, and will not be over until the subscriptions filed with the reserve bank equal the quota. Secretary McAdoo Urges Continued Effort for Bonds

The following telegram from William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury of the United States, has been received by H. S. McKee, chairman of the Southern California Liberty Loan Committee:

“I learn with deep regret that there is a disposition on the part of the Liberty Loan organizations in various parts of the country to discontinue their efforts after they have reached their quotas or have over-subscribed their quotas to some extent. I requested $3,000,000,000 as the minimum the government ought to have, with the hope and expectation that it would be largely over-subscribed and that every Liberty Loan committee would exert itself to secure the largest possible over-subscription. I hope the Liberty Loan Committee will energetically continue the campaign until its close, in order to secure not only the success of the loan as a whole, and the largest possible over-subscription, but also the greatest number of individual buyers. When America's sons are now actually fighting on the battle fronts in France, and will not stop fighting until the victory for liberty is won, no Liberty Loan Committee can stop fighting for the Liberty Loan until the campaign closes, May 4. If we stop fighting when we have reached the minimum of the Liberty Loan we are not comparably sustaining our sons in France, who are fighting not for the minimum but for the maximum of America's rights and world liberty.”

—W. S. S.—

FURTHER CREDIT IS EXTENDED BELGIUM

WASHINGTON, April 26.—A further credit of $3,260,000 was extended Belgium today, bringing the total to that government to $107,850,000 and the grand total to the allies to $5,288,850,000, the treasury announced.

Special Groups Working Out of Office of Local Loan Workers

City Is About $70,000 Short Of Its Quota At This Time

The banks of the city will be open tomorrow night from 7 to 9 to take subscriptions to Liberty Bonds.

BY R. L. BISBY
(Chairman of County Liberty Loan Committee)

The secretary of the Treasury has urged that every chairman do his very best to secure an over-subscription, and that the subscription for this loan be placed among the individuals of the community in proportion to their wealth.

Yesterday, reports from the battlefield showed 274 Americans killed or wounded. Had the second Liberty loan failed it is more than likely that these Americans killed and wounded would have been four times as large.

Money buys food, ammunition, clothes, and protection for the lives of the men who have gone to the front to fight for the freedom of the world. I want to say to you, Mr. Man, who did not buy, where will your satisfaction be in the establishment of a democratic government when you see a returned soldier walking down the street with a dangle coat sleeve where an arm should be, or what will your conscience say to you? Will the thought not occur to you that had I bought my just share of these bonds, that man might of had more protection and thus have saved his arm, and many that have gone never to return might of had their lives saved? Each man must walk up to the counter of conscience and make his choice, and the decision is not for a day, but for eternity, because as long as any man walks this earth who has not done his bit the pricks of his conscience will spoil his joy in living.

At the present time several special committees are working out of the Santa Ana office, under the direction of the city chairman, A. N. Zerman, and these committees are certainly finding out the character of the men who have not done their duty, and a record is being made of same to be used in the future. This record will not bring joy to some of the citizens.

It is not all gloom, however, the county is over by several hundred thousand; the city of Santa Ana lacks about $70,000; the district of Santa Ana, about $40,000. The committees who have co-operated with Mr. Zerman in this campaign have done wonderful work, and he wishes to express his appreciation for same.

There are only a few more days left of this campaign. Let's get together and adopt a new slogan: “A Liberty Bond for every Liberty Home in Santa Ana.”

OPEN ASH PORT WAS CAUSE OF SINKING

Work of Raising American Liner St. Paul Was Started By Workmen Today

NEW YORK, April 26.—An ash port, carelessly left open, was believed today to have flooded the American liner St. Paul, sinking her at her pier. However, so far no official announcement as to the cause of the accident which probably cost three lives, had been made. Twenty men of the 350 aboard were injured.

Work of raising the vessel was progressing rapidly today. Meanwhile investigation definitely to place the responsibility for the sinking was conducted by army men.

HAIG TAKES VILLERS IN BITTER FIGHT; DRIVE IS RESUMED WITH FURY

Hun Advance on Mount Kemmel Again Places British In Critical Position; With Hordes of Troops Hindenburg Continues His Advance on Amiens

LONDON, April 26.—German forces have obtained a footing on Mont Kemmel, one of the most important heights in Flanders, following an all day battle on a ten mile front, Field Marshal Haig reported today.

“After severe fighting throughout the day on the Bailleul-Hollebeke front, the enemy obtained a footing on Kemmel Hill,” Haig said.

“A successful minor operation west of Merville resulted in the capture of fifty enemy prisoners and three machine guns.

“From the Lys to Givenchy there is hostile artillery firing.

“South of the Somme hostile posts holding positions southeast of Villers-Bretonneux were cleared out.

“The enemy's artillery is active and is using gas shells.

“At Hemming Hill the allies gave ground before superior forces.

“In the neighborhood of Dranoutre, Kemmel and Vierstraat fighting still continues.”

GERMANS TAKE MONT KEMMEL

LONDON, April 26.—The Germans have occupied Mont Kemmel, according to the latest official information received today.

The Germans have advanced 2000 yards on a 12,000 yard front in the Kemmel sector, capturing the “very important ground of Kemmel hill,” Major General Radcliffe, director of military operations, announced this afternoon.

“It is possible to hold Ypres even with the enemy on Mont Kemmel,” Radcliffe declared.

“But it will be inconvenient and we hope to get him off.

“In the Lys sector, the net result of the engagement has been highly satisfactory. As usual, the Germans used a lot of troops, with heavy losses, and gained absolutely nothing.”

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, April 26.—French troops are entirely surrounded, on Mont Kemmel. They are still fighting savagely, turning the green flowered fields into sizzling hell. The Germans paid dearly for their gains.

After eight hours of fighting, German storm troops finally wedged their way between the British and French flanks and crossed the Kemmel-Ypres road, where the terrific Allied fire held them up for two hours. Then they turned southward and poured down the valley to the west of Kemmel hill, surrounding the French, who are still fighting atop the heights.

Similar fighting surged about Villers-Bretonneux, the British fighting like lions and retaking the town atop the ridge, in much the same fashion as the Germans won Kemmel.

OFFICIAL WAR BULLETIN TO TELL FACTS OF SUCCESSES, REVERSES URGED BY PEOPLE

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The war department issue at once a daily communique telling all facts before Germany gives them in her own version.

Representative Anthony, Kansas, led the assault.

“We feel that the American people should be able to depend on their own war department for news and not upon the official German statement, which thus far appears to have been accurate,” he said before the war council session.

GERMANS MUST CONTINUE WITH DRIVE OR CONFESS DEFEAT

Hindenburg Unable to Turn Back Without Admitting Failure of Plan

GERMAN PEOPLE KNOW GREAT PLAN FAILED

Present Situation, However, Is a Most Serious One For Allied Forces

BY J. W. T. MASON
(United Press War Expert)

NEW YORK, April 26.—Von Hindenburg's renewed pressure on the front between Ypres and Hazebrouck, after the recent heavy German casualties is still another indication of the growing realization in Germany that the present situation in the west is not exerting its expected influence on the end of the war.

By securing a footing on Mont Kemmel, the Germans have added difficulties to the British defense to the Ypres salient, but have not placed in any peril the British forces defending that area. The British line continues intact. It is in perfect position for another moderate retirement, if it becomes necessary to exchange still a little more ground for a further slaughter of German man power.

Dare Not Stop

The key to the entire west front situation at the present moment is the impossibility for Hindenburg to stop his offensive efforts without confessing the ruin of his great plan to end the war before America's military strength can be brought to bear. There is every reason to believe in General Foch's ability to prevent this by compelling the uninterrupted payment of German casualties on a continuously high scale.

Hindenburg has not yet reached his Moscow, but the basis of the strategy that overthrew Napoleon in Russia is now being used by General Foch under modern conditions. Hindenburg's progress in the west will eventually exhaust him, through the too costly expenditure of human lives, just as Napoleon progressed, but lost his man power in Russia. Hindenburg, however, will not abandon his quest yet. He has become the victim of his own ruthless machine. He cannot guide it. He can only feed the machine with German lives and trust blindly to fate, which is moving inexorably against him.

FLANDERS BATTLE IS BEING BLOODY

The battle in Flanders has again taken the ascendancy.

Severe infantry and artillery fighting is progressing on practically the entire northern battle area, Field Marshal Haig's report indicated today, while the operations on the British front in Picardy are limited to local actions and cannonading.

On the northern edge of the Flanders battle front the Germans obtained a footing on Mont Kemmel. This was the culmination of a severe, all-day fight on the ten-mile front between Bailleul and Mellenbeke. Kemmel is about four miles northeast of Bailleul and seven miles south and west of Ypres. If the enemy completely establishes itself on this height, the British must defend Ypres from the south on a low, flat terrain.

Haig conducted a successful minor operation on the extreme western tip of the northern battle front, west of Merville. On the southwestern sector of the Flanders theater, the Germans are heavily shelling the British positions on the ten-mile front between Givenchy and the Lys river.

In Picardy, the British cleared out some outposts southeast of Villers-Bretonneux, which they recaptured from the Germans last night.

German artillery is active south of the Somme and is employing gas shells freely.

HUN TROOPS ARE WITHDRAWN FROM RUSSIA

MOSCOW, April 26.—The Germans are steadily withdrawing troops and sending them to France.

Polish citizens refused to enlist in a proposed Polish corps to fight against the Allies in Flanders.

KEANE AGAIN GIVEN CHANCE, MAKE GOOD

Elgar, Also Returned From Prison, Seeking Probation, Too

Declaring he is cured of the drug habit, which was his curse, F. W. Keane went from the court house this morning a free man, though under probation.

Keane burglarized a doctor's office at Huntington Beach, and offices here were also entered by him in search of drugs. Dr. C. V. West caught him in his office. Keane was given chance after chance, but each time he fell by the wayside. Finally, he was sent to San Quentin, where he spent about a year. He was returned here a few days ago to be re-sentenced to a definite term.

Keane appeared strong and was clear of eye. He said he had taken a drug cure at prison, and he felt sure of himself. As a skilled mechanic he believed he could make good in the shipyards. Judge West decided to give the man a chance. The passing of sentence was withheld for five years.

Jim Elgar of Huntington Beach, also returned from San Quentin for re-sentencing, is making a fight for probation. He says that his few months in prison have convinced him that he has every reason in the world to observe every rule of probation that may be made. His case will be heard on May 3 at 9 a. m.

VAGRANCY CHARGE IN STAMION CASE DROPPED

This morning a charge of vagrancy brought against Kane Stamion of Los Angeles was dismissed by Justice Cox. Stamion was first arrested on suspicion of stealing oranges at La Habra. The vagrancy action was brought largely because the evidence upon the theft suspicion was light. He was out on bail when he was again arrested, and a complaint was filed in which he was charged with stealing oranges of C. A. Palmer at Olive. The Palmer charge was dismissed because there was insufficient evidence to connect Stamion with the oranges taken from boxes in Palmer's orchard.

In the hearing last week, in which it was alleged that Mrs. Berns did not maintain proper conditions at her home for her two children, Mrs. Berns declared that Berns was pro-German, that he had torn down an American flag and had made disloyal remarks concerning the flag. FOR SELLING OLD SCALES, FINED $10

Under Law, Sealer Must Examine Such An Article Before Sale

This morning Joe Weinstein was fined $10 by Justice Cox, after a plea of guilty had been entered to a charge of selling a scale that had not first been examined and sealed by the county sealer of weights and measures.

Weinstein was arrested on complaint of Sealer George McPhee. When he came into court, Weinstein protested that he had sold no scales. The only one he had had in the house had been loaned by him to a friend who lives out in the country.

McPhee here produced a rusty, flat-top scale, and immediately Weinstein said that he had had it in his shop, but somebody else must have sold it. Weinstein asked to be allowed to go without a fine because it was his first offense. McPhee declined to ask for the dismissal of the case, and Justice Cox stood pat.

UNDERGROUND SYSTEM FOR AIDING ALIEN ENEMIES TO ESCAPE COUNTRY DISCOVERED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—What authorities believe was an underground system of alien enemies to get out of the country was blocked today, following the arrest of John Reinhardt, an unregistered alien enemy, and Sigurd Melvar, Norwegian sailor, and the informant of J. P. Ruffer, German baker. Reinhardt was arrested when the customs officers and police searched the schooner Galilee prior to its departure for Alaska.

He had a Norwegian passport and police declare he had secured it by getting possession, with Melvar's aid, of a fisherman's union card belonging to a Norwegian and presenting it to the Norwegian consulate here. Ruffer was arrested on the barkentine Star of Greenland under similar circumstances, his passport being of Russian origin.

NIGHT REPORTS

Brief Summary of the News Which Appeared In This Morning's Papers

AMERICAN BOAT LOSSES WERE SMALL
WASHINGTON, April 25.—Publication by the British Government of shipping losses for the year 1917 and for the first three months of 1918 of British and Allied ships permits a comparison with America's losses for the same periods.

American losses were about 1 per cent of the total tonnage destroyed by U-boats, raiders and mines for the year 1917, and only a slight increase is shown for 1918.

CYCLOPS' CREW WAS DISSATISFIED

BALLINGER, Tex., April 25.—Roy Scoggins, a member of the crew of the lost American collier Cyclops, wrote a letter to his father, J. M. Scoggins, who lives near Ballinger, just before the departure of the vessel from Norfolk on its last voyage into southern waters in which he said that all had not been going well on board and that the crew had experienced things that "they would not stand for again." The letter contained nothing to indicate what he referred to. It has been placed in the hands of the Federal authorities and will be forwarded to the War Department.

AMERICAN WOUNDED IN FRENCH HOSPITALS

PARIS, April 26.—American soldiers wounded in the great battle which now is being waged are already arriving at the rear. American wounded and sick to the number of 123 have reached Hospital 25. They are from units engaged in fighting side by side with the French and British in stemming the German advance.

CORN ACREAGE IN NEBRASKA IS LARGE

LINCOLN, Neb., April 26.—The seed corn situation in Nebraska is well in hand and Nebraska's corn acreage this year will be normal, or probably a little above normal. This is the statement made today by Vice-Chairman George Coupland of the State Council of Defense, who is the head of the council's agricultural department.

"The situation is well in hand and the council is now assembling a reserve stock of seed corn in the event of it being necessary to replant in some sections," said Mr. Coupland.

WIVES OF 'MURDER PLANT' OPERATOR SEEKING PROPERTY

DETROIT, Mich., April 26.—One of Helmut Schmidt's living wives arrived here today from New York to try to attach one of the "murder plants" which she herself succeeded in escaping. She is Mrs. "Emil Brown."

She left for Royal Oak shortly before noon to look at his property there, hoping to recover equity for the $3500 which she says he stole from her. A third living wife was believed located in New York today. Schmidt is said to have obtained $1400 from her.

He appropriated $3200 from his present wife, who, police think, was to have been his next victim.

An illegitimate child of a Prussian junker, Schmidt was trying to accumulate money to return to Germany and live as an aristocrat, developments today indicated.

MONT STROMBOLI IN VIOLENT ERUPTION

ROME, April 26.—Mount Stromboli is in violent eruption. Falling lava has set fire to vineyards. It is believed some lives have been lost.

Stromboli is a volcanic island, the northeasternmost of the Lipari islands, located in the Mediterranean off the north coast of Sicily. The volcano is 3040 feet high. The island has a population of about 2500.

RENO WOMAN OUT TO SECURE SENATE SEAT

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Miss Anne Martin of Reno left San Francisco for Nevada to open her campaign for the United States senate to succeed the late Senator Newlands. Miss Martin spent her time in San Francisco conferring with California suffragist leaders. She announced that Mrs. Francis J. Heney, Miss Gail Laughlin, Dudley Field Malone, Charlotte Perkins Gilman, Jane Addams and Frank P. Walsh will stump Nevada in her behalf.

MAKING HISTORY OVER HERE

WHILE your boy and the boys from your home town are facing the Hun on the far-flung battle lines in France and Flanders, writing in letters of blood the history of the Great War, it becomes our sacred privilege to support them to the fullest extent of our power. While our boys are making history over there, we, by subscribing to the THIRD LIBERTY LOAN, may make history over here.

President Wilson has issued a proclamation designating Friday of this week, April 26, as LIBERTY DAY, and requesting the people "to liberally pledge anew their financial support" of the government.

On this historic day, patriotic demonstrations will be held in every city, town and hamlet throughout the land to encourage the sale of Liberty Bonds.

Americans on this occasion will be called upon to make additional sacrifices, if need be, to send the THIRD LIBERTY LOAN far over the appointed goal.

General Pershing, the commander of our forces overseas, says of the Third Liberty Loan: "Every dollar subscribed is a dollar invested in American manhood. Every dollar subscribed will confirm the determination of our people at home to stand by its army to a victorious end."

Get behind our President in this grave hour of the nation's history and back up General Pershing. While our boys are making history "over there," we, by oversubscribing to the THIRD LIBERTY LOAN, are making history over here.

USING THE WATERWAYS

New York state built a great barge canal from Lake Erie to the Hudson river, spending scores of millions of dollars on the ditch, without making any provision for using it when it was built. The United States government is proceeding to remedy the defect. The canal has been commandeered by the railroad administration and immediate steps will be taken to utilize it as fully as possible for the purposes it was built for.

A practical inland navigation man has been put in charge of operations. Several hundred steel barges, the chief requisite, are to be built as rapidly as possible by construction companies on the Great Lakes. Some of them will be ready in a few weeks. They will be an immense improvement over the old-time canal boat, carrying 700 tons apiece.

Mr. McAdoo announces that the barges will be operated in conjunction with, and as a part of, the general railroad and waterways transportation system of the country. "This will insure," he says, "the complete co-ordination of the Erie Canal facilities with the railroad facilities, and it is hoped, will greatly enlarge the available transportation facilities throughout the eastern territory."

The canal system is said to be capable of carrying 10,000,000 tons of freight a season. It is expected that half that amount will be carried this season. The freight hauled will be mostly grain and coal.

This is getting down to business. Such utilization of canals and navigable rivers, and their co-ordination with the railroads, is the chief need of American transportation. The railroad administration is expected soon to extend this policy to the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal and several other waterways in the East and Middle West. It should receive full and enthusiastic public support in all efforts along this line.

THAT LIBERTY MOTOR

Nobody has felt like saying much lately about the Liberty Motor. That famous gas engine has become not exactly a scandal, but a sore spot and a reproach in our war preparations. Designed in a novel and dramatic manner, and then advertised broadcast as a world-beater, it was for a little while a source of immense public pride and enthusiasm. It was supposed to be perfect, the last word in aviation engines. It was an engineering triumph. Rapid production was promised. The Liberty Motor was to give us prompt command of the air and to be the most decisive factor in winning the war.

Then, after a few weeks of comparative silence, the nation's hopes were punctured. Investigations seemed cruelly disillusioning. The world-beating motor was not perfect after all. It might do for certain classes of planes, were told. But the experts were still tinkering with it. None had been produced. It was impossible to say when it would be in final, complete form and quantity production would start.

The resulting state of pessimism is probably as unfounded as was the excessive optimism that preceded it. There was a practical demonstration the other day that means more than any amount of theoretical discussion. A Liberty Motor, built into a heavy army airplane intended not for speed, but for carrying bombs, made an unobtrusive trip of 325 miles from Langley Field, Va., to Mineola, L. I., in three hours and fifteen minutes. The officers in charge reported that the engine never missed a stroke, and was remarkably free from vibration.

It may not be the best airplane motor in the world, but it's manifestly a mighty good motor. The necessary thing now is to stop trying to attain super-perfection and proceed to make it, by thousands or tens of thousands. And under the new director of airplane production, there is reason to hope that this will be done.

THE FIRST OF MAY

The Austrian emperor's denial that he sought a separate peace has by no means settled the situation in Austria-Hungary. In fact, it has made his people more discontented than ever. Nearly all of them want peace. Trustworthy accounts from many parts of the empire indicate that opposition to the war, hatred of Germany and dissatisfaction with the present governmental system are steadily growing. The situation, says a recent dispatch from Switzerland to Washington, is "capable of any possibility."

The disaffection of Bohemia is well known. The rivalry between Austria and Hungary, the two rival monarchies that make up the empire, steadily grows. Fiery speeches of criticism have been made in parliament by the Czechs, Jugo-Slavs and Poles. Public assemblies in Prague are said to have cheered President Wilson's name. The population of Vienna, though largely German, is described as extremely discontented.

Many signs of upheaval come from Socialist sources. The Social Democrats have declared in the Austrian chamber of deputies that the country is not interested in the struggle of Germany against Great Britain, France and America. More significant still, the German Socialist party of Austria has announced that work will be stopped throughout the country on May 1, and peace demonstrations will be held.

May 1, always a perilous date in countries with strong Socialist organizations, may be historic this year. We need not be surprised if it is celebrated by a great popular uprising in Austria-Hungary.

OPPORTUNITY IN THE ARMY

One of the new brigadier generals commanding fighting troops in France is a young man who joined the army last year as a private soldier.

His rapid promotion should be an inspiration for every man in the army, and for every man who is registered and expects sooner or later to join the colors. It is concrete proof of what has been said so often before, that the American army is the most democratic military organization in the world, and that every man who enters it stands at least as good a chance of having his merit recognized as he would in private life.

The rule works both ways. At the same time that a lot of privates are being given commissions and advanced with unexampled rapidity, a lot of officers who held important commands before we entered the war are being relieved of their commands because they have failed to make good. This, too, is something that appeals to the native American sense of democracy and fair play.

Few Americans think of army service as a "career." Whatever a man's place in the organization, he generally looks upon his work as a transient duty, to be discharged as well as possible in the shortest possible time, and then abandoned for civil pursuits. Nevertheless it adds immensely to the spirit of the army for the soldier to realize that, while he is in the service, he is rated and rewarded at his real worth.

A BIT OF FINANCIAL HISTORY

The credit of the United States was so high and unquestionable in 1900, two years after the war with Spain, that TWO per cent bonds were offered at par AND OVERSUBSCRIBED. It is a financial performance that no other nation has ever equalled. United States FOUR per cent bonds in 1888 sold as high as 130, and in 1901 brought 139% in the open market.

The United States has never defaulted in any of its obligations. Not one of its bond-holders has ever lost a cent of principal or interest, except those who have voluntarily taken losses by selling their bonds in a period of temporary price depression. One Hundred cents on the dollar, principal and interest, has the United States always paid.

Back of the approximated $250,000,000,000 of national resources stands the rugged honesty of America.

Liberty Loan Bonds are the safest security in the world.

A RECORD TO PRESERVE

The Springfield Republican justifies the president in favoring the election of Senators of the Democratic faith because "a Senate controlled by his political opponents would greatly embarrass and weaken his administration."

We cannot share this feeling. The largest measure of opposition and embarrassment which has been brought to the president from Senatorial sources has come from the Democratic side of the chamber. Republicans, in the Senate as in the House, have been much more generous in their support of war measures proposed by the administration than have Democrats.

A Senate controlled by the Republican party could not and would not turn its back upon the patriotic record which the party has already made—while to have a Republican Senate would ensure a division of party responsibility which should and would inure to the benefit and not the embarrassment of the administration.

The trade journals continue to report the consolidation of newspapers "on account of economic pressure." There are at least two consolidations now pending in Southern California, one of which is assured; and from White Cloud, Mich., comes report of the consolidation of the "Star" and the "Eagle."

The British are just as good at the "shall not pass" game as the French are.

When a Bullet Misses

Men who have been in the trenches in France say that a soldier who has been fired at and just missed at a distance of 500 yards, hears two distinct sounds. Phonetically, in type, they are this: "Pack-punk." The "pack" sound is made by the bullet in passing, and "punk" sound is the report of the rifle from which it is fired, and arrives, at this range, about half a second later. Bullets which ricochet from the ground or any flat surface travel thereafter with a peculiar rasping noise, sometimes between a whistle and a shriek. This is because, having been deflected in their flight, they are turning rapidly over and over in the air.

Hard to Put In Better

A Fort Scott preacher, talking about riches, is quoted in the Tribune as telling his congregation that it isn't the amount of money a man has, but of the amount of man the money has. It would be difficult to say it better.

Bud Flivver's Observations

 If a cross-eyed person—Would look at the thing—He is talking about—Instead of looking—At something else—A body might know—What he was talking about—

 The other day Eph Oxley—Blew in from Goshen—And I hadn't seen him—For fifteen years—

 And he looked—At the copy boy and said—"How are you, Bud?"—And he stuck out his paw—To shake hands with me—

 And he looked—At the sporting editor—And slapped me—On the shoulder—And said "You're looking fine"—

 And for a second—I didn't know—Whether he meant the copy boy—Or the sporting editor—Or who he meant—

 And he sat down—And talked a while—And he looked—At everybody but me—

 And when he left—I got to thinking—About when I was a kid—And how Eph used to amuse me—

 And I remembered—How my sister—And a big doll—With a wax head—And it opened—And shut its eyes—

 And one day—I got curious—About what made—The eyes open and shut—And everything—

 And I got the shears—And cut the threads—That held the head—On the cloth body—

 And I got to—Tinkering around—With the head—And put a stick—Under the weights—That moved the eyes—

 And I put the stick—In so tight—That I bent the springs—And got the weights—All out of plumb—

 And mother—Gave me a jawing—And sewed the head—Back on the body—Like it was before—

 And one of the eyes—Looked straight ahead—And the other—Looked over toward Smith's—And had a funny squint—

 And when sister saw it—She got peevish—And then she laughed—And said it looked—Like Eph Oxley—

 And everytime—I saw Eph—I would think of the doll—And when I saw the doll—I would think of Eph—

 And by seeing them both—So often—I got to liking—Them both—And that's why—I was glad—When Eph Oxley came in—To see me—By Bud.

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

The Political Periscope

Let us get rid of a few notions. One of these is the time-honored cry of the discontent about the "fat salaries" that are paid to public officials. While pay in many other lines of work has advanced, the pay to public officials in this county has been treading water. The $2000 or $2200 or $2400 a year paid courthouse principals is nothing so tremendously attractive when one deducts election expenses and the subscriptions to which the public official is heir.

We have it straight from an ex-official that $1800 outside the courthouse has $2400 inside beaten a city block. Some years ago—just a few years ago—the office of county school superintendent was unquestionably the goal of school teachers' heresaults. It was the dream of the county principal, who thought it might be within his reach when he once got himself well enough known to take it. It was the best paid school job in the county.

But now? There are a lot of school men getting more money than is paid to County School Superintendent Richard P. Mitchell. Some of the friends of E. W. Hauck of Fullerton talked about running him for superintendent, but their talk was vain. Why should he quit the principality of the Fullerton school at $2750 a year to make a precarious race for a job that pays $2250 and a few eagles more for special work on the county board of education?

The truth about the decision of N. T. Edwards' decision not to run for reelection as county clerk lies largely in the fact that he can't afford to stay on the job, which, by the way, is some job, loaded down with grind and responsibilities.

Edwards' announcement that he would not be a candidate is the item of chief political importance sighted through the periscope in the last week. It has caused a stir among some men who are more or less hooked up with political ambitions. At the present time J. C. Metzgar is the only announced candidate for the position.

County Tax Collector Johnny Lamb is head over heels in work this week, passing out receipts and taking in the coin. Lamb has been given the once-over by two or three prospective candidates, but each and every one of the aforesaid prospective candidates has decided not to tackle him. Lamb has demonstrated his ability to go forth and garner in the votes, and no doubt the knowledge that Lamb stands ready to hop to the bat with all comers has had something to do with his freedom from opposition.

County Auditor Jerome has likewise kept an eagle eye out for signs of an opponent, but he has failed to connect with the object of his search. So far the officials who are without avowed opponents are Lamb, Jerome,

Miss Whitney, L. A. West and Mitchell.

It is a poor campaign that cannot put on exhibition a hot scrap out in the Second Supervisorial District. Tom Talbert is out for re-election and he is in to stay to the finish. Anyone who knows anything at all about Talbert knows that he is some campaigner when it comes to stirring up the far corners in search of the festive vote.

There has been a lot of milling around over in the Second in an effort to settle down upon a candidate to make the race against the supervisorial chairman. The periscope could be turned over in that direction on any kind of a day, fair or stormy, the stormier the better, and gather into view a few bubbles about to burst.

For awhile it looked as though Edward Chaffee of Garden Grove was going to run. Chaffee was a candidate for the assembly here the first time Joe Burke ran, you will remember. Then we got a glitter of a white-cap on the Huntington Beach channel. It was Leonard Obarr, who has again and again in the last six months been a near-candidate and who has been even declared by some to be a candidate. Then we picked up sight of Sterling Price at Bolsa and George W. Moore with their heads together, each saying he was willing that the other fellow should run, and each saying he was willing to run if the other thought he was the man to run.

Saturday night there was a get-together meeting at Smeltzer in which Chaffee, Obarr, Price and Moore were present, and the upshot of that meeting was that Moore was brought out into the open and declared to be a candidate, with Chaffee, Obarr and Price among his backers.

One can jog down through the political history of the Second Supervisorial District for some years past, and all along the line he sees the name of Talbert set opposite the name of Moore. This year's supervisorial scrap between those two men is no new thing in politics.

Away back yonder in 1906 Moore was elected supervisor. He served two and a half years and resigned to put more time in the celery business. Moore did not want Talbert appointed, and he did everything he could to keep Talbert from being appointed, but Talbert was appointed.

Talbert completed the term, and ran again. He was opposed by Sterling Price, and was elected. At the end of that four-year term, Talbert was out for re-election, and that time Moore was a candidate along with Talbert and L. E. Van Winkle. Talbert was elected at the primaries.

Now things are warming up for another heat, and if the periscope gets any true pictures in the section that lies between the river and the sea, they are pictures of a lively campaign. Evidently they are going to have a lovely time over in the Second. Talbert is all ready for the go, and has a bunch of friends back of him. Moore is getting together an organization. Rockets are in the air calling for shelling by the heavy artillery.

The supervisorial situation in the Fourth district has come to an end. The sector is a quiet one. In fact, the life in the campaign over that way has been extracted. There is nothing to it. Everybody seems to think the shouting and everything else is over. Supervisor Fred Struck, who has given years of good service to the county, has decided to retire, and he was chief among those who dropped in upon Nels Edwards the other night and urged him to run for the position. When Edwards bashfully consented to having his name appear on the ballot, it was generally declared all around that he had no campaign to make, for he appeared acceptable to all concerned, which is a very fine thing, indeed, for the candidate.

Here is a paragraph from the 'Anaheim Gazette':

"John Kellenberger rises to remark that the published statement that he would enter the campaign for the office of sheriff is unfounded and untrue. John says he has no intention of entering the shrievalty contest, and furthermore has no money to throw to the birds."

Nobody ever published a statement saying that Johnny was going to enter the race for sheriff. The periscope did gather in a bit of film showing Ed Cook of Anaheim over at the county seat one day. Cook was proposing that Kellenberger ought to make a strong candidate. However, Cook seems to have been making the proposition without Johnny's knowledge, consent or applause. Anyhow, there seem to be plenty of candidates for sheriff without pulling Johnny in by the ear. There's Jackson, Jernigan and Boynton, and three is a crowd.

DELIGHTFUL OUTING

Members First Travelers and Husbands Yesterday Enjoy
Trip to Owensmouth

Members of the First Ebell Travelers class motored to Owensmouth yesterday, where they enjoyed the jolliest kind of a picnic at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Bristol, who have a beautiful ranch nestled among the hills in the San Fernando valley. A trip out to the Bristol ranch has become a sort of annual festival with the Travelers, to be pleasantly anticipated for weeks, and enjoyed to the full when the day really arrives. The ride from Santa Ana to Owensmouth is a rarely beautiful one these early spring days, with the hills and valleys clad in their new spring gowns of varying shades of green and the air laden with the fragrance of roses and orange blossoms, and the Travelers will count it as one of the happiest days in the club calendar.

The pretty Bristol bungalow was a bower of roses and after the noon-day dinner had been properly attended to, an afternoon of good, old-fashioned visiting was enjoyed. Mrs. Bristol was assisted by Mrs. Harry Correll. Those who shared in the outing were Messrs. and Mrs. George S. Smith, J. P. Baumgartner, Terry E. Stephenson, Stephen Ross, J. J. Roper, H. C. Davies, E. B. Smith, I. W. Van Cleave and Mrs. J. W. Bishop, Ella Palmer, L. J. Carden, M. F. Heathman, Ed. Tedford, Linn L. Shaw, W. M. Smart and W. L. Tubbs.

T. R. M. Club
The T. R. M. Club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Harry Lambert, 1045 West Second street. The afternoon was passed enjoyably with music and fancy work.

Delicious refreshments of strawberries and cake were served.
Those enjoying the afternoon were Messrs. Preston Kerr, Glenford Griffin and daughter Evelyn, Tom Lacy and son Thomas, Jr., Tom Gilcomb and daughter Maxine and Orin Daniel.

THE GUY WITH A WHINE

I don't mind the guy with a red-blooded kick
At a real or fanciful wrong;
I can stand for the chap with a grinch if he's quick
To drop it when joy comes along.
I have praise for the fellow who says what he thinks,
Though his thoughts may not fit in with mine,
But spare me from having to mix with the ginks
Who go through this world with a whine.
I am willing to listen to sinner or saint
Who is willing to fight for his rights;
And there's something sometimes in an honest complaint
That the soul of me really delights;
For kickers are useful and grouches are wise,
For their purpose is frequently fine;
But spare me from having to mix with the guys
Who go through this world with a whine.

HONESTY

Subject of Rev. Roadhouse at Jefferson P. T. A. Yesterday;
Elects Officers

The last regular meeting of the Jefferson P. T. A. was held in the kindergarten room yesterday afternoon at 2:30. The children of the third, fourth and fifth grades, with Miss Alice Cranston, gave a physical training demonstration, which was much enjoyed by the friends present.

Rev. A. F. Roadhouse of the Christian church gave an excellent talk on "Honesty," making much of the point concerning honesty between parents and teachers, as well as between parents and children.

The following were elected as officers for the next year:

President—Mrs. C. F. Smith.

First Vice President—Mrs. C. F. Miller.

Second Vice President—Mrs. A. B. Gardner.

Secretary—Miss Helen Roberts.

Treasurer—Mrs. J. E. Snow.

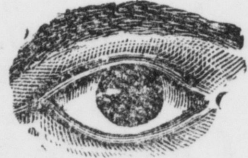

A committee of mothers was appointed to have charge of Junior Red Cross work, which is progressing most satisfactorily.

The P. T. A. closed the year with a balance of $49.76 after all bills are paid.

At the close of the meeting the mothers made gun wifes.

Mrs. Alice Harris was the lucky recipient of the fine cake sold Wednesday at the Red Cross Shop. L. M. Doyle, cashier of the California National Bank, got the Dragon box of candy.

MEETS IN COUNTRY

Mrs. Antone Borchard Hostess to Altar Society Women of Catholic Church

The pleasant country home of Mr. and Mrs. Antone Borchard at Greenville was the scene of a very delightful meeting of St. Joseph's Altar Society yesterday afternoon, the home being prettily decorated in honor of the coming of the guests, who always enjoy an outing at the hospitable home.

With lively conversation, the ladies bustled themselves with sewing carpet rags and a pair of pillow cases were sold and brought $5 to the treasury.

Late in the afternoon Mrs. Borchard served dainty sandwiches, pickles, olives and coffee.

Among those present were: Rev. Fr. H. Eumelen; Mmes. F. J. Wagner, V. A. Rossiter, Chas. Bevis, J. A. Maag, J. W. Maag, C. Oelke, Louise Waite, Horace Fine, C. W. Young, R. G. Tut-hill, Joseph Young, T. A. Murphy, L. M. Doyle, Charles Borchard, Carl Klatt, Frank Klatt, M. H. Woodward, John Rudolph, H. J. Cochems, Hamann, Charlotte Lipps; Misses Berkenmuer, Magrudy, Bertha Klass, Barbara Klatt.

Mrs. Catherine Hammer of Fullerton and Mrs. Sullivan were guests of the society.

High School Assembly

On the ship "Los Angeles," which will leave for France the latter part of May, Santa Ana High School will have a large assortment of goods. Committees for both the girls and the boys have been appointed and today canvassed the city in search of contributions of discarded clothes, shoes and dried fruits. Shoes for women and children are most in demand as they wrap pieces of canvass over their feet when they go to work in the fields.

This ship will not sail with the ultimate object of rebuilding France, but of aiding a stricken people. The former will be the job of Germany after her defeat. Monday after next was designated by principal D. K. Hammond as "Old Shoes Day." People are requested to have old shoes half-soled before giving them.

With the exception of Hollywood High a school twice as large as Poly, the local school has adopted more orphans than any other high school in Southern California.

Miss Watson made the statement that Santa Ana also sold more Easter cards than any other school, having a record of $37 worth, with Redlands second with $30.

THE ART EXHIBIT

Three Days' Showing at Elks
Hall For Benefit of the Red Cross

The exhibition now being held in Elks' hall by the Santa Ana Art Guild presents an opportunity for Santa Anans to see better pictures than they have ever seen before. It will continue tomorrow evening. In fact, no better canvases have ever been shown in Southern California than Edgar Payne's "Heavy Sea," Helena Dunlap's "Mountain Cottages" and Jack Smith's "Canyon Shadows." It is hard to be temperate before Edgar Payne's marine. It has a quality that exhilarates you like fine music; it is supremely satisfying.

Helena Dunlap's snow scene, "Mountain Cottages," is considered the finest snow picture ever shown in Southern California. Technically, it is a masterpiece and radiates with a soft mellow light. Equally satisfying is the glowing, pulsating color of the "Belgian Street Scene." Jack Smith's "Canyon Shadows" has wonderful atmospheric quality and you fairly feel the mist that dims the distant hills. There is a sense of right values and true color.

Donna Schuster's "Sleep" is very modern in treatment and the quality of the sunlit flesh is delightful. It sparkles with light and color.

Dana Bartlett has some good canvases, besides the numerous monotypes he shows. The "End of the Day" painted in the pointillist manner and "The Nocturne" are both beautiful and harmonious. His monotypes are very good, indeed, and have a queer feeling of other worldliness like some Japanese prints.

Benjamin Brown shows a number of unusually good color etchings, one especially of the Grand Canyon that appeals.

Howell C. Brown has some exquisite dry point etchings that have a virile strength combined with a delicate beauty of line.

Bessie Hazen shows some interesting monotypes and three dry point etchings, and Beulah May has a print of a very sceptical cat, "Foodies."

Anna Hills has not exhibited her best of late work, due to pressure of exhibits elsewhere, and therefore is not fairly judged. The "Reflections" is the best, although her pictures are always beautiful.

Mr. Cuprien's "Evening's Grand Finale" is a very poetic and mystic thing and Evelyn Nunn has a number

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Leibig are home from an auto trip to Kingman, Ariz., where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Don Andrews. Mr. Andrews is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Andrews and Mrs. Andrews is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Leibig.

J. F. Doyle was here today from Onyx, Kern county, on business. Doyle is one of the owners of a large cattle and alfalfa ranch and is the manager of the enterprise.

Attorney W. F. Menton made a trip to Los Angeles today.

Mrs. F. P. Nickey was in Los Angeles today, a guest at a Minnesota luncheon given by Mrs. D. W. Ferguson.

Mrs. J. I. Clark and Mrs. Addie Collins spent the day in Los Angeles. J. A. Turner made a trip to Los Angeles today.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Skirvin, who have been sojourning in Santa Ana for the past two months, having apartments at the Meyer Hotel, left today for their home in Keokuk, Ia. They go by the way of San Francisco and will visit several cities in the west on their way home, where they will arrive about a month hence.

Mrs. Dwight Flowers, formerly of Santa Ana, now of Long Beach, visited friends in Santa Ana this week, previous to starting to Key West, Fla., where she will join her husband, who is in a naval training camp there.

Have you been reading the "teaser" talks by O. A. Haley? The climax comes Saturday. Look for it in the auto section. The well-known Dodge car agent is going to tell you about something new; something worthwhile, too.

of beautiful canvases. The "Lazy Sea" ranks with the best in the room and the "Adobe House" is most interesting. She has an exquisite sense of color and a very facile brush.

Roy Colman shows several interesting things. The "Ebb Tide" is perhaps the most appealing.

Beulah May's exhibition of sculpture is most comprehensive, ranging from the delicately poetical "Harvest Moon" to the commanding "Arctic Storm God." The book ends are very medieval in feeling and quite charming. This artist is essentially a modernist and is not always understandable to the layman. "Peace Mourning Her Dead" is one of the most interesting of her exhibits and is full of melancholy and a brooding tenderness.

Santa Ana Hospital to Lose
Miss Rutherford Who Is on Red Cross Call

Hosts of friends and many who have been patients at the Santa Ana hospital during the years Miss Katherine Rutherford has been the kindly matron will feel the keenest regret at her departure from her work here, but she feels that she can do more for humanity in the Red Cross work and there are many others who can take her place here, who perhaps are not physically fit to stand the hardships at the front.

Miss Rutherford registered some weeks ago and has received a telegram from Washington asking her when she can be ready. She has given a date as May 3 and next Friday will sever her connection with the hospital here and go to Long Beach to remain with her relatives until she is called. Her hosts of friends will extend many good wishes to her in her new field, which she is so eminently fitted, both in personality and training, to fill.

As yet no successor to Miss Rutherford in the hospital has been selected. Yesterday Miss Rutherford was the honored guest at a farewell luncheon given by several of the nurses at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Lutz on North Main street.

The Santa Ana Ebell society has extended an invitation to the Girls' War Service League to be present at its meeting Saturday afternoon to hear the splendid program which will be given then. All the members of the league should take advantage of the opportunity to hear this interesting program.

"Live Wires" Frolic
J. C. Gibbank was host to his Sunday school class of the Spurgeon Memorial Church at a wienie bake in Santiago creek Wednesday night. He was assisted by Kenneth Morrison. Seventeen boys were in the group, being members of the class which has adopted the name of "Live Wires." The lads are up and coming all the time, and they never demonstrated this more forcefully than they did on the night of their frolic when they assaulted the German trenches as represented by wieners. A big bonfire was built and the hot coals brought the sausage to a brown turn quickly, and then they were slipped between buns cut in half. The husky lads destroyed the enemy completely and celebrated the event by a series of high links on the sands and gravel of the creek bottom. A most delightful evening was enjoyed and the boys expressed their appreciation of the courtesy of their class teacher in offering them the opportunity to "frolic on the sands." The members of the class present were Edward Ruch, Boyd Sleeper, Gerald Mixer, Tom Kevin, Edmund Cochems, Hubert Armstrong, Ned Hayes, Jack Harmon, Carl Opp, Leon Gardner, Winfred Golden, Alfonso Mendoza, Edward Linsenbird, Leslie Carmac and Edmund Culver.

The Athena Club of the High school held a delightful masquerade party last evening, about 125 young women of the school participating.

The decorations were carried out in black and yellow tissue paper, Scotch bloom and mustard flowers and were most effective.

Many beautiful costumes were seen during the grand march, which was followed by a period of dancing.

Miss Louise Tappan received a basket of lovely roses for having the prettiest costume and Miss Ada May Sharpless a cluster of red roses, for the most unique, a Hawaiian outfit.

Miss Evelyn Larson received the prize in the rhyme contest.

The girls were arranged in groups later and performed interesting "stunts" in keeping with their costume.

Miss Virginia Bell was charming in an Egyptian and a Grecian dance and Miss Sharpless pleased with vocal solos.

Refreshments of orange ice and cake were served late in the evening.

Misses Laird, Rensberg, Boyle, Henry and Field were among the faculty present, together with a number of the mothers.

FEDERATED MISSIONARY SOCIETY HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING HERE

The sixth annual meeting of the Federated Missionary Society of Santa Ana was held yesterday in the United Presbyterian Church. This is a Union meeting of sixteen of the Women's Missionary societies of the city, banded together for exchange of ideas as to methods and results of work and to secure inspiration from addresses by well-known workers direct from the missionary fields. All the addresses breathed the spirit of patriotism and exemplified the motto for the year that "Righteousness exalted a nation."

Mrs. Lloyd Darsie ably presided during the day and in her opening address expressed the hope that we might have peace in our hearts in the midst of the turmoil and sadness of the war. The devotional exercises were led by Mrs. A. T. O'Rear and emphasized the great need of prayer and close companionship with God.

After the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Miss Ada O'Brien, the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. L. T. Faris, showing a balance on hand of $12.65.

The following committees were then appointed:

Nominating—Mrs. C. F. Crose, Mrs. F. M. Gist, Mrs. V. Montgomery.

Resolutions—Mrs. J. T. Raitt, Mrs. J. H. Scott, Mrs. F. G. Davies.

Registration—Mrs. H. A. Beals, Mrs. Maurice Carter, Mrs. Bowers.

Courtesy—Mrs. Ella Parker, Mrs. Maria Harris.

The report of the literature secretary, Mrs. C. S. Osborn, was received.

Amend Constitution

Amendments to the constitution were adopted, as follows:

The president and secretary of one year shall be made members of the executive board of the following year, to serve as advisory members.

The nominating committee shall be appointed by the executive board.

The duties of the secretary of literature shall be to collect literature pertaining to the missionary work of the different denominations, which literature shall be available for distribution at the annual meeting.

It was moved and carried that only paying members of missionary societies be allowed to compete for the banner.

The quartette from the Christian Church, Misses H. Hayes, A. E. Chapman, Jas. O'Brien and Edith Nelson, gave a pleasing selection and following this came the first of the talks on "Home Problems" by Capt. Carroll of the Salvation Army. He thanked the people for the support given to his station where meals and beds and clothing are given free to the very needy and at a nominal price to those who can pay anything. At this time he keeps no young men as work is plentiful but a good many old men come to him for help. The captain needs an automobile for his work and would be glad to hear of any one who has a machine he does not need.

Methods

A "Conference of Workers" was conducted by Mrs. J. A. Stevenson and representatives from the different societies discussed the questions. It was brought out that in some churches all the ladies are considered members, others accept only those who pay yearly dues. Some societies make a yearly canvass, others have committees to invite new members in the church to join, others have permanent look-out committees. It was shown to be advisable to begin with the little children to create an interest in missions.

Mrs. Stephenson said: "Newspapers have been the greatest educators along the line of developing interest in the war, and missionary literature is the educator of interest in missions." Get the magazines in the homes of all the people, show pictures of the workers and have a "missionary room" in the church for magazines, photos, curios that can be seen by Sunday school classes, were some of the suggestions made. Ten of the societies have mission study classes. The First Presbyterian church is giving the Christian Endeavor hour for six Sundays to a study of Africa and has a class of 250.

Raising Money

Raising money—the old method was by dues, the new method is by free will offerings, mite boxes, thank offerings, voluntary pledges and birthday offerings by the children and were all shown to be helpful. Mrs. Crose said: "We are just beginning to learn how to give. As one result of the war we are learning to do with less and give more. Money has been raised more easily this year than ever before."

Miss Mendoza reported for the Mexican Missionary Society that they have just organized an industrial class for children.

Mrs. Leebick, secretary of the Associated Charities in her talk on "Home Problems" showed that the words now so much used—efficiency, conservation, service—were familiar words to all social service workers. We are finding that the child is a public asset so this year the nation is asked to save 100,000 children from dying before the age of 5, California's quota being 1,822. The child welfare station conducted by Mrs. Leebick is to help in this work. Already sixty children have been examined and given help. Child care is an index of civilization.

Mrs. Rodriguez, speaking of the Mexican problem in our midst, asked for a "square deal" for these people, for better housing conditions, more book knowledge, which will lead to the enlightenment of the men and the emancipation of the women.

A Message from China

At this time Mrs. Saunders, a missionary from China, gave her message. She went with her husband to China thirty years ago, pioneers in the interior of China. They were doing good work when the dreadful Boxer rebellion came and for forty-nine days they fled with their four children before the Boxers. Nearly all their friends were killed or died from exposure and the cruel treatment they received. But the Chinese learned then of their courage and faith and the missionaries had a chance to help, at a great cost, in getting the "open door" for China. Her message was: "We have a great God." Luncheon followed, 200 being seated. At 1:15 an organ recital by Harry Warner was much enjoyed.

The afternoon session opened with devotional exercises led by Mrs. J. R. Baker. Her subject, "The Resurrection Power of Christ," was taken from Phil. 3:10, and following this the beautiful hymn, "Better Than Silver and Gold," was sung by all. The first speaker was Rev. Alex. Saunders, who spoke of his personal experiences of the opening of China to the world. In 1900 they were driven from China with indescribable sufferings, robbed, beaten and scorned. But in 1911 he was asked by a Chinese general to preach to his men and was shown every courtesy. This shows the change of sentiment of the people toward the missionaries. There are still about 300,000,000 people in China who have never heard the Gospel. This is the pressing need of China today.

Madame Angelini, the wife of a Waldensian minister in Italy, spoke of the war in Italy and of the wonderful work being done by the Waldensian missionaries.

Banner to Christian Church

Miss Holly Lash sang in a charming manner, "The Earth Is the Lord's." She was accompanied by Miss Donna Horton.

The banner for the largest percentage of members present was awarded to the Christian church and accepted by the president, Mrs. Jas. O'Brien.

The next convention will be held in the First Methodist church and the officers for the coming year are President, Mrs. F. G. Davies; vice-president, Mrs. Henry Donan; secretary, Mrs. S. M. Davis; literature secretary, Mrs. Anna M. Scott; treasurer, Mrs. Geo. Husser; press reporter, Mrs. Victor Montgomery.

Resolutions

The following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, we, as a body of women meeting in Federated Missionary interests, are impressed with the magnitude of the world field today and it is our earnest desire that we may be fitted to meet the needs that are so pressing, therefore we urge all to heed the call to noontide prayer for our forces, both military and spiritual.

Resolved that we wish to commend the unsung work being done by the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. C. T. U., therefore our hearts go out in gratitude to God for the great work that has been done along these lines and all lines of Christian work.

We are sure that we all are in hearty sympathy with better Sabbath observance in our city and will co-operate in any way to bring about that condition.

Resolved that this convention stands for the ratification by the legislature of the national constitutional prohibition amendment and that our secretary be instructed to write to our senator and assemblyman asking for their favorable vote on this question. We are heartily in sympathy with any measure taken to bring about war-time prohibition.

We appreciate the courtesies of the church that has entertained us, including the beautiful flowers, the music and the luncheon.

We deem it a great privilege to have with us these Soldiers of the Cross

Rev. Darsie's Address

Rev. Darsie, who has given up his work as pastor of the Christian church to take up Y. M. C. A. work in the army, was the principal speaker. His address was as follows:

"Keep the home fires burning.
Keep the home letters coming.
Keep the home love shining."

was the message of Rev. Lloyd Darsie, the khaki-clad pastor who is now in Uncle Sam's service as Y. M. C. A. director at Camp McArthur, to the women of America, in speaking on the subject, "Woman and the War Camps," at the meeting of the Woman's Missionary Federation, held yesterday at the United Presbyterian church.

"The cantonment is no place for women," is the attitude of our military leaders," said Mr. Darsie, "and under this ruling the presence of a woman is almost an event in camp life. But it is an event eagerly anticipated by the great majority of the men. They are hungry for the sight of home folks. Absence makes the heart grow fonder. When the boys get back home, they will appreciate mothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts as never before, and the women of America will do well to minister to this appreciation by careful and sympathetic correspondence."

"It's great to talk with a woman. I have spent all my money and I know I will have indigestion from eating so much candy, but it's worth it just to get to speak to the lady at the counter."

This young man had been long away from home. He had been deprived of the company and conversation of women. The woman at the desk was neither young nor pretty, but she satisfied a great longing in his heart. It is not good for a man that he should be alone. The big awkward fellow needs the society and companionship of the opposite sex and no where is that need so manifest as in the cantonments. When I escorted a lady to Kelly Field, the fliers long separated from their homes were so delighted to see a woman and so appreciative of her coming that she was moved to tears. It is so in all the camps. The men in uniform miss the home influence. They are hungry for the familiar associations of home."

In France, they recognize the presence of a woman at the desk and canteen as a distinct safeguard to the men. I know the attitude of the "Y" on the subject of women. The huts belong to the men. It is a man's proposition and it should not change its character or be allowed to become a Y. W. C. A.

But human nature is human nature and when men are hungry for the presence and companionship of good women, there should be some means of answering that need. I said to a group of men at Camp Stanley, "Why are you men so eager to have a woman on the program? A woman, whether she is young or old, pretty or ugly, will always draw a crowd. Why? Does she remind you of the girl back home?"

"Yes," they said, "that's it. She reminds us of some one and so we salute the sex!" There is something fine and knightly in that. Some of the men in uniform enlisted for the war, out of a sense of chivalry. Sergeant Grimes of Temple, Texas, gave me his experience which I have put in verse.

"The attitude of the soldiers to the women who visit the camps to provide entertainment is one of the greatest respect, I might almost say reverence, and the very greatest favor that can be offered to a soldier is to introduce him to a lady, that he may enjoy a few moments of conversation with her. I am firmly persuaded that this heart hunger of the boys should be provided for in some legitimate way that will not be abused."

"Under proper chaperonage receptions or socials might be arranged for that would brighten the corner for homesome young men in the camps without necessitating their going to the great cities and being exposed to peculiar temptations. Recent writers have said of the soldiers in France that the presence of good women is the best safeguard against the menace of dissolute women."

"The Y in keeping the lines open communication open back home by means of facilities for correspondence is doing much to surround the men with the uplifting influences of pure womanhood. From the soldiers themselves and from unfinished letters left on the tables, we often glimpse the 'back home' ties that hold these men to their best and often save them from the downward pull. The greatest contribution of the 'Y' to the welfare and character of our soldiers and sailors is in promoting and maintaining the lines of communication 'back home.' Mighty currents of love and power and purity, that uplift and safeguard our men, flow in the letter channels that have been opened by the 'Y.'

"From France comes the earnest request that our good young women will correspond with the men in uniform and cheer their hearts with 'back home' correspondence. O! if you could see as I have seen, day after day the eager look in the faces of great, strong fellows as they have asked for a letter from home. And could you see as I have seen, the hopeless, stricken look in a man's eyes when the letter did not come, you would appreciate how these fine, strong, brave men depend on a letter from home."

"Yes, 'keep the home fires burning and keep the home letters coming until the boys come home' is the greatest duty of those who cannot go to the front. These boys are fighting for you and the thought that you know and appreciate their loyalty will make them strong. Will a man fight for his woman? Aye! will he, but let your love and appreciation sustain and uplift him amid the trying experiences of trench and camp."

"I was twice confined in hospitals, in the last one nothing but gruel water was injected into me four times a day, as my stomach would not retain any food. GAS HEARING IN ORANGE COUNTY NEXT WEEK

Definite Date For the Session
Here Has Not Yet Been Decided

Railroad Commissioners Thelan and Loveland, who are conducting the hearing on the petition of the Southern Counties Gas Company for an increase in rates in this district, will be in Santa Ana some time next week to take evidence on conditions existing in this part of the eastern district.

The commission was at Santa Monica yesterday and will be at Long Beach tomorrow. The day on which the hearing will be held here has not been definitely set, further than a tentative understanding that it will be some day next week.

At the session held in Los Angeles City Attorney Scott and other city attorneys of Orange county were in attendance. The gas company introduced evidence in support of its claim that it is entitled to advance rates here stating that the rate in this county was entirely too low. The rates here are lower than in any other part of the district.

War demands have increased the cost of labor and materials, assert the officials.

F. S. Wade, the company's superintendent of operations, occupied the witness chair for hours, describing the labor conditions. He told, for instance, that artisans from his company, and laborers, too, were attracted from his employ to the employ of the ship building concerns at the harbor by higher wages.

The southern territory covered by the company was divided into three districts: Long Beach and vicinity; the Santa Monica bay section and the eastern or Orange county section, which includes part of Los Angeles county.

The hearing had to do particularly with the eastern district, where the rate varies from 75 cents per 1000 cubic feet to more than $1.10.

The company proposes that the rate shall be raised in some districts and lowered in others, so as to make approximately a blanket $1.10 rate for the eastern district.

According to Superintendent Wade salaries and wages exacted by labor from his company were from 20 to 25 per cent higher than in 1917 and that because of the difference in available wages the company had lost many men to the ship building concerns.

New gas rates for San Bernardino and Riverside counties were fixed by the State Railroad Commission in San Francisco. They were computed on a basis of netting the Southern California Gas Company 8 per cent on its investment.

The quality of gas is also reduced from 600 heat units to 565 units with a minimum of 530.

In the cities of Riverside and San Bernardino a base rate of 75 cents a month is fixed, with $1.20 for the first 2000 feet; $1.10 for the next 3000 feet; $1 for the next 7000 feet; and all gas over 15,000 feet, 80 cents. Colton, Rialto and other places outside of the cities have a slightly higher rate.

The old rates had a minimum charge of 50 cents and a charge of $1.20 for each 1000 feet of gas used.

The gas company operates a plant in Los Angeles also on which rates were fixed last August. The Citrus Bell Gas Company, competing in the Riverside district, is also allowed to advance its rates slightly.

STATE TREASURER'S METHOD CONSERVING GOLD IS APPROVED

Officials of the Federal Reserve Bank today commend the action of State Treasurer Friend W. Richardson in helping the government to mobilize gold. County Treasurer Joplin and the local banks have just received a letter from the Federal Reserve Board calling attention to the action of the state treasurer in conserving gold, and asking that the example be followed in order to give strength to the nation.

Richardson placed the state treasury on a currency basis, by turning gold over to the Federal Reserve Bank, and in receiving exchange in payment of taxes instead of inconveniencing taxpayers by demanding gold payments at Sacramento, as a technical construction of the law would require.

Odd Fellows of County Observe Ninety-Ninth Birthday of the Lodge

In observance of the ninety-ninth anniversary of the Odd Fellows' lodge, the Odd Fellows of Orange county and their families are today assembled at the Orange county park, in their annual picnic. The exact number of members in attendance at the picnic is not known, but it was said yesterday that the "turn out" would be exceptionally large.

No formal program had been arranged for the day, but sport games, speech making and a big picnic dinner were to make up the day's fun.

SALT LAKE OFFICE IN SANTA ANA IS CLOSED FOR WAR

Government Control Results
In Abolition of Its Competition Here

The Salt Lake Railroad closed its office in Santa Ana today. This was done as one of the many items of conservation of energy and men that is being carried out under government control. It is expected that the office here will remain closed until after the government relinquishes control of the railroads.

Any person desiring to travel over the Salt Lake can get a ticket at either the local S. P. office or the local Santa Fe office.

S. C. Frost, who has been commercial agent for the Salt Lake here, has been transferred to the Los Angeles office. T. L. Marsh, the city ticket agent, expects to remain in Santa Ana, at least for the present.

The Salt Lake has no railroad into Santa Ana, though it has a right of way for most of the way from Whittier here. Plans for construction are held up by government war control. The office opened here about ten years ago.

CHAUTAUQUA TICKETS WILL BE ON SALE TOMORROW EVE.

There are plenty of good reserved seats still to be sold for the Chautauqua course, which will start Sunday afternoon, corner Third and Bush streets. S. H. Finley, chairman of the ticket-selling committee, stated this afternoon that he will keep his office open all day tomorrow, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., and tomorrow evening from 7:30 to 9 p. m., so that any persons who desire to buy season tickets with reserved seats can do so.

Everything that the guarantors have heard concerning this year's program convinces them that the program is of unusual excellence. It is especially strong from a patriotic point of view.

SEVEN MEN SOUGHT ON MURDER CHARGE

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill., April 26.—Seven men were being sought today on indictments charging them with murder in connection with the lynching of Robert Praeger at Collinsville three weeks ago. Five of twelve indicted are in jail here. Four Collinsville policemen were charged with malfeasance for failure to interfere with the mob.

The first under arrest are Joseph Reigel, Westey Beaver, William Breckmeier, Enid Elmore and Richard Dukes. Beaver, hotel porter, was said to have been indicted for participating in the East St. Louis race riots. He had evaded arrest on that charge.

Thirty-seven witnesses were named by the grand jury, including 18-year-old Maida Gilmore, whose testimony was said to have involved her father. Federal and state operatives under direction of Governor Lowden combed the mining district today for dissidents to prevent further lynchings.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Expert manipulation of the wheel of an auto by Mrs. William Mize yesterday afternoon saved a little boy serious injury. Three little boys were playing on Birch street. They started across the street and then retraced their steps just as Mrs. Mize drove along in her auto. One of the boys fell to the pavement directly in the path of the wheels of the machine, and no doubt would have been seriously injured had not Mrs. Mize acted quickly and expertly in handling the wheel. This is one of the many instances of almost daily occurrence that should impress parents with the necessity of preventing their children from making the streets playgrounds.

A thief entered the barn of Mrs. M. E. Ritchey on McFadden street Wednesday night and stole a quantity of chicken feed. One night last week thieves entered the barn and stole 150 empty sacks.

A special program of patriotic exercises will be held at the First M. E. church Sunday night. Rev. H. W. Peck, S. M. Davis and Walter Eden will be the speakers. Special music will be rendered by the men's chorus.

S. M. Hill will open store number six of his chain of grocery stores tomorrow. The new store is in the R. E. Whitted block on East Chapman avenue, Orange.

Charley McAulay of Anaheim writes from Mare Island, where he is training in the naval school, that he has applied for a transfer to New York. If he gets the transfer, which he confidently expects, he will go into a submarine as electrical engineer.

W. S. S. —
The following statement has been signed by Fred Rafferty, chairman of the finance committee of the Santa Ana chapter of the American Red Cross, and has been sent to the auto show association.

"On behalf of the Santa Ana Chapter of the American Red Cross it is with much pleasure that I make acknowledgment of the great appreciation of the chapter, for the money raised and donated to the chapter by the Automobile Men's Auto Show Association last Monday night.

"The arrangement of the entertainment allowed for numerous concessions in connection, and credit is due to the merchants and others, who donated the articles, and to all those who gave their services towards increasing the amount received.

"The patriotism and good will, shown by the hard work and the total expenses borne by the association, deserve especial commendation.

"The total receipts amounting to $244.98, were turned into the treasury of the chapter yesterday, and they give the funds of the local society a tremendous boost, for which I know all of the members are truly grateful."

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 23.—The tramp of thousands of feet and martial music from a dozen military bands resounded through the streets here today, when a great military and naval pageant was held. It was the big feature of Liberty Day, and thousands cheered the boys in blue and khaki. Following the parade, inspiring addresses were given at the exposition organ pavilion. Both San Diego city and county have gone "over the top" in bond sales, but the drive is being continued with unabated fury.

HUN INTRIGUE SUSPECTED IN SOUTH BRAZIL

Uruguay Official Airs Suspicions As to Activities of German Agents

REVOLUTION ONE OF KAISER'S BIG AIMS

President Irigoyen of Argentina Says His Country Will Back Uruguay

BY H. B. ROBERTSON
(United Press Correspondent)
RIO DE JANEIRO, Feb. 20.—(By Mail).—That the government of Uruguay seriously suspects Germany of attempting to foment a revolution in the southern-most states of Brazil and an invasion of Uruguayan territory, was the remarkable statement contained in the message sent by the president of that country to the parliament which opened its sessions in Montevideo on February 16.

The statement was all the more remarkable in that it was accompanied by the declaration that the government of Uruguay had informed President Irigoyen of Argentina, if Uruguay could count on Argentina's assistance in case of invasion, and that Irigoyen had promised to uphold the sovereignty of Uruguay and would assume all responsibility for the consequences of such assistance.

His Statement
The clause of the message, containing these statements, which was published in this city the day following the opening of the Uruguayan parliament is worded in the following manner:

"Having had serious suspicions that the German government patronized an insurrection of the German colonies for the purpose of causing an uprising in the provinces of the south of Brazil, it being said at the time that they sought to realize an invasion of the northern part of our territory, the government of Uruguay carried this fact to the attention of President Irigoyen and asked him what attitude the Argentine government would assume in case Uruguay asked for war materials to arm the forces that would be mobilized. President Irigoyen advised the representative of our country that in case of such an attempt the Argentine government would offer

NOW JOHN'S SINGING IT

WORD HAS COME OVER THAT THE POPULAR SLOGAN, "FREEDOM FOR ALL FOREVER," IS BEING TAKEN UP BY THE ENGLISH AS A WAR SLOGAN.

its assistance for the defense of the sovereignty of the Uruguayan nation assuming the consequent responsibilities.

The president's message made it perfectly clear that no suspicions were entertained toward the Brazilian government and that Uruguay's uneasiness rested purely on possible German machinations among the German colonists of the state of Santa Catherina. This point was emphasized in the clause which declared that "important treaties were signed with Brazil which guarantee definitely our good friendship with that country."

Was Little Comment
The Uruguayan president's message was received in this city with little comment, the main point in question—the possibility of an uprising of the southern German colonists—being ignored completely. In view of the fact that the Brazilian government has strong detachments of troops at all the possible mobilization points in Santa Catherina and along the borders it is thought extremely improbable that any serious trouble will develop. Since the Porto Alegre riots last April when three million dollars worth of German property was burned following a German colonist demonstration the Germans in Brazil have been modest and retiring to a suspicious degree. It is known that there is an amount of secret propaganda and intrigue, but open opposition or violence as yet is unknown.

In regard to the Uruguayan government's negotiations with President Irigoyen and the Argentine president's attitude, O. Imparcial, of this city, declared that Irigoyen's statement "constitutes an eloquent testimonial to the continental solidarity, showing at the same time that the pro-German sympathies attributed to the Argentine nation and government never will reach the point that they would lend aid to the propaganda of perfidy of our enemies."

"It is clearly and unequivocally assured," O Imparcial continued "that the Argentine government would not hesitate to assume the responsibilities of a state of war if the German maneuvers comprised the tranquility of the South American continent. The declarations of President Irigoyen, now made public, have value as a practical affirmation of the true principles of the Monroe Doctrine, in the definition of the conduct of Argentine in the emergency of a determined concrete case."

GERMANS ATTEMPT TO MISLEAD FRENCH

Papers Distributed to Bring Enmity Against American Soldiers

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Germany has sought to stir the French to enmity against the Americans by some of the most vicious propaganda attempted during the war.

Papers, appearing to be editions of the standard French dailies, were circulated by the German airmen over the French lines to sow this propaganda. Among other things these purported to show that the American soldiers were stealing the wives of French soldiers. This line of propaganda was first attempted in Italy. There, the Germans printed pseudo-Italian newspapers with stories of bread riots and revolution in Italy, following it up with postcards to soldiers saying the men's wives had been untrue.

American officials are carefully on guard against the German propaganda at the front line, and it is assumed that American soldiers will realize the viciousness of the Teuton attacks after experience in this system at home.

AVIATOR TEACHING CADETS WHO WILL BE U. S. AVIATORS

Lieut. John Robinson, aviator, is now at Camp Dick, Dallas, Texas. A letter from him received by his mother, Mrs. L. E. Robinson, 615 East First street, follows:

I spent last Sunday in Oklahoma City, arriving here Monday. I passed through after two towns one or two hours after that cyclone hit them. In one town 34 out of 40 houses were more or less destroyed, but no people were killed, I believe. My train was only six hours late. But I arrived safely and am feeling fine.

Dallas is a wonderful town. It is the largest in the south except New Orleans. The people are very hospitable and surely try to show the boys a good time. There are about 700 of our officers and 2000 cadets awaiting a chance to go to ground school. We are placed in charge and in fact the Fort Sill bunch is in complete charge of the post except for the lieutenant colonel in command. We have things very much our own way. I have been principally hiding out this week. I am supposed to assist three other fellows in handling a squadron or wing of officers. But they do not need any help and only put me on to keep out of drill and classes. I do not know how long this will last, but have hopes.

A large number of the Sill men are being used as instructors for the cadets. I may be assigned to the instruction department, for all I know. The camp is at the Texas state fair grounds. We use the buildings as barracks and school rooms. The grounds are wonderful; the buildings remind me very much of the Syracuse fair. We use the race track for our parade ground, and it proves a mighty good one. This being a concentration camp, we do no flying. By the looks of things we will be here a month or more. Joy, I wish we could go to aerial gunnery school before then.

MANY U. S. SOLDIERS TAUGHT TO SPEAK

Every Army Camp Has Its Quota Not Versed In the English Language

(By United Press)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 26.—Teaching the English language to the aliens in Uncle Sam's army is a task which has been undertaken by the state immigration and housing commission.

The work among the soldiers in California was started by the patriotic men and women of San Francisco and other communities now are urged to follow the example.

According to a report of the commission there are nearly 300 soldiers at the Presidio and Fort Scott who do not speak, read or write English readily. Among these men 23 different languages are spoken.

ORDER COAL NOW FOR USE NEXT WINTER

Fuel Administration Urges Residents to Get Supply During Summer

This is the good old summer time—or very near it—and it will be some months before anyone here will have use for coal for heating purposes, but those who do require it for manufacturing purposes and those who need it for winter heating of private residences and buildings are urged by City Fuel Administrator A. J. Crookshank to place their orders at once and get in their supply during the summer.

The fuel administration is urging the substitution of wood for coal wherever possible in order to conserve the coal for war industries. Wood in California is more available than coal, and cheaper.

"Because of the speeding up of war industries, the consumption of coal of all kinds must be greater this summer than it has ever been, while at the same time, hope of better transportation conditions during the fall and winter cannot be held out while the railroads are imperatively needed in hauling war supplies and munitions for the war zones," reads a circular sent out by the fuel administration.

"It is impossible to accumulate supplies of coal at the mines because there is danger of fires. There are no storage facilities for the huge quantities necessary to be stored, and it would require the double handling of all coal mined. California dealers have only a moderate storage capacity in their yards. Therefore, the people of California who burn coal are the ones who should provide storage space by building a coal chute and bin sufficient to carry a year's supply."

Buy Cheaper Now
"Californians are advised that if they will follow this advice they can, during the next sixty days, buy their coal, in bulk, at approximately $1.45 per ton less than they will pay during the late summer, fall and winter."

"Last summer, consumers were under the wrong impression that they could secure supplies of coal during the fall and winter. This was one of the reasons for the acute shortage in the East. This year, because of the new zoning system, the mines of the West will be called on to supply a larger field than ever before and they must take care of the extra territory."

"Every ton put in during the spring and early summer will be one ton decrease upon the burden of transportation facilities next winter, and that much more insurance to consumers that they will get their coal."

"In addition to this, it is the patriotic duty of every California consumer to order and store coal at this time in order to insure the employment of the miners and to lift the heavy burden from the transportation lines during the winter."

MARRIED WOMEN ARE GOOD INSTRUCTORS

State High School Commissioner Takes Exception to Dismissing Them

(By United Press)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 26.—The policy of compelling women teachers to retire after marriage is one of the greatest economic losses in California, according to Will C. Wood, state high school commissioner.

"Some of the best teachers I have known have been married women," says Wood. "In fact, marriage, and especially motherhood, generally gives the teacher a more sympathetic attitude toward childhood."

"In view of the threatened shortage of teachers, I feel very keenly that all efficient teachers should be retained in the service at this time."

The recent dismissal of all married teachers in the Bakersfield schools gave rise to this question of retiring teachers who marry.

WINTERSBURG BOY WRITES MOTHER OF FRANCE

Mrs. W. G. Alford Receives Letters From Son Now Serving In France

WINTERSBURG, April 25.—Mrs. W. G. Alford received three letters the past week from her son, Clayton Alford, from "somewhere in France." They were postmarked March 17th, 20th and 24th, the latter reaching here several days in advance of the other two. This was the first word received from him in six weeks. But one letter from home had reached him and that was one addressed to him at Madison Barracks, New York, bearing the post mark of November 17, which had been delayed all those months. It, however, was heartily welcomed by him across the waters, even though the news it contained was rather antiquated.

One of his letters contained vivid descriptions of French life and scenery. One thing particularly noticeable was the mourning to be seen upon the streets, almost all of the women and numbers of the children being dressed in black, he said.

Speaking of the many historic buildings he had visited, he said one felt so nearly transported back to other centuries when viewing them that it would not be a surprise to meet Joan de Arc or some of the old French kings face to face. Napoleon, he said, was there, "but left before we came."

Stop the "Snuffles"

If you want to make your distressed babies easy and comfortable, give Foley's Honey and Tar.

It is just what they ought to have for feverish colds, coughs, "snuffles," and wheezy breathing. It stops croup, too. Foley's Honey and Tar tastes good and the little ones like it. It contains no morphine, chloroform or other drug that you wouldn't like to give to young children. Do not accept a substitute.

Mrs. B. H. Garrett, Schoolfield, Va., writes:—"My baby was stricken with a severe cough and cold at one month old. I gave him ten to fifteen drops of Foley's Honey and Tar every three hours and it surely did help him. He hasn't been sick a day since."

interesting as it is so different from that in the U. S. A. No street cars are to be seen, only small railway trains divided into compartments, each accommodating four persons. The tablets were in an unused trunk and how many the child ate is not known, but he was taken very ill immediately and as late as Tuesday was but slightly better and had not taken a bite of food.

W. S. S. HUNTINGTON BEACH TRUSTEES HOLD ANNUAL MEET

Officers All Re-appointed; Much Dissatisfaction Is Reported

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 25.—The regular session of the board of city trustees, which was to have been held Monday evening, was adjourned until Tuesday evening because of the Junior Red Cross meeting at the grammar school. Tuesday evening the board convened in regular session and after the routine business was disposed of the appointment of subordinate officers was taken up and resulted in the re-appointment of the present incumbents except the building and plumbing inspector, which business was left with the city manager to look after.

From discussions about the town there appears to be very much dissatisfaction generally in the re-appointment of a city manager, and it is intimated that an initiative ordinance will soon be placed before the city council for their further action in this matter, either to pass the ordinance abolishing the office of city manager or call an election and submit the question to the people for their decision of the matter. It is asserted that fully 75 per cent of the voters favor doing away with this office, and for the city council to manage the affairs of the city.

Oppose Engineer

Also there is much dissatisfaction expressed regarding retaining a city engineer at this time, when there are no public improvements necessitating the constant employment of an engineer. Many are of the opinion that arrangements can be made with a competent engineer for his services by the day when needed and not be at the expense of carrying an engineer on the pay roll. Other cities larger than this make such arrangements. Why not Huntington Beach?

The local Chamber of Commerce members have adjourned their meeting until Friday evening, May 3rd, as the Woman's Club will give their play at the grammar school auditorium Friday evening, the 26th.

Beet Prices Pre-War and Present

The average test of all beets delivered to our factory since we began business in 1912 is 19 per cent.

Heretofore the contract price for beets testing 19 per cent was $5.70 per ton.

In our 1918 contract we guarantee for 19 per cent beets a minimum price of $9.50 per ton, with further possible increases based on the price of sugar.

The Guaranteed Minimum Increase over the pre-war contract price for beets testing as above is

$3.80 Per Ton or 66½ Per Cent

On this basis the returns per acre would be $38.00 greater than the pre-war contract returns on a 10-ton crop, $57.00 greater on a 15-ton crop, and $76.00 greater on a 20-ton crop.

We believe there is no other staple crop which the grower can contract in advance at a high minimum price, practically guaranteeing a good profit, which, at the same time, permits him to share in any higher prices that might prevail later for the product made from his crop. This is an unusually strong factor of safety.
